CARACOL / SNAIL

PABLO ALBO, text

PABLO AULADELL, illustrations

NEW TITLE!

Despite what its name might suggest, Snail is not an ordinary snail, in fact it is the fastest snail in the whole vegetable garden. It is also a guy who likes dreaming: for instance he would like to reach the carob tree on the other side of the fence that surrounds the garden. One day he will begin the journey, carrying with itself its good humour, its possibilist spirit, and an unquenchable desire to travel. Pablo Albo's words follow with empathy the adventures of this happy Snail, while Pablo Auladell's illustrations fill the vegetable garden with a whole lot of bustling insects and other animals, that transform the garden into the most lively place.

EL IDIOMA DE LOS ANIMALS / THE LANGUAGE OF THE ANIMALS

MARÍA JOSÉ FERRADA, text
MIGUEL PANG LY, illustrations

NEW TITLE!

Reading these 5 short stories, introduced by the wise words of the philosopher Pang Tzu, you will find out that there are cats who believe they are lions, mice who love eating clover, barks that say “hello”, birds that exchange gifts, owls that write dictionaries. The authors of this book have discovered all this and, believe me, you can discover much more if you learn as well the language of the animals. They say it's easy, you only need to keep your eyes open and your ears attentive.

THE ABC OF THE IMAGINED BODY

MAR BENEGAS, text

GURIDI, illustrations

3rd EDITION

The ABC of the imagined body is a work that with only 27 haikus and 459 syllables is able to talk to the reader of the lucidity and complexity of the human body, and how it fits into the world as part of the nature. Since the haiku is a synthetic poetical form, the writer Mar Benegas get rid of anything unnecessary leaving only the exact words, that become flash of understanding, the promise of something important. Guridi's illustrations are based on the relationship between body and nature, so that flowers, leaves, blades of grass become clothes for the human being and for the emotions that compose his life.

HOLA, MAÑANA / HELLO, MORNING!

MAR BENEGAS, text

NEUS CAAMAÑO, illustrations

NEW TITLE!

Each day is an adventure and, when you are a toddler, everything is new. Saying “Hello!” to the cat, the piano, playing with the turtle. Greeting the clouds or a friend. Exploring, looking, touching... This way the hours pass by and, when you go to sleep, you greet the dreams saying: “Good night!”. A book that chooses to play with usual forms of greeting: “Hello!” and “Good bye!”, thus proposing a journey across the day, the objects, moments and people that a toddler finds at its side while discovering itself and the world that it inhabits. Join this toddler in its trip through the day.

WE CALL HIM MANOLITO

GUSTAVO ROLDÁN, text and illustrations

NEW TITLE!

The creature Manolito arrived one day and asked to be let in. Nonetheless the people who live in the house don't agree with him, and they try to talk him. Weird, and apparently helpless, the creature Manolito keeps insisting. Gustavo Roldán creates this tale, adopting the point of view of one of the people who live in the house: throughout the book, this person will tell both to the reader and the creature Manolito what he thinks. But most of all the author draws a dishevelled, dear, and in the end irresistible character. The creature Manolito has arrived to stay. And his story can be read as a metaphor of many situations than we witness in our daily life.

ALMÍBAR / SYRUP

ANNA MAS BLASCO, text

ANNA-LINA MATTAR, illustrations

NEW TITLE!

One morning, while she is cleaning the kitchen, she finds a can of peaches in syrup. Thus a granddaughter, obsessed with tidiness and hygiene, obsessed with avoiding any possible accident and sickness, starts thinking about her gluttonous grandfather. Nowadays, he is caught in a retirement home. On the other side his granddaughter feels herself caught into The Dimension, some sort of parallel universe, created by her mind and that turns off her vitality. Who's actually living, who has grasped the taste of life? Where does anyone find the meaning of living right here and right now?

CONTAR / STORYTELLING

PEP BRUNO, text

ANDREA ANTINORI, illustrations

NEW TITLE!

Where would you go to look for a good story to tell? How would you prepare it? Which is the best way to learn it? What are the important details to consider while you are telling a story? This book will talk precisely of all this and also of the pleasure to tell and to listen to a story. Telling a story is an activity that belongs specifically to human beings, no other animal does that. Telling stories is part of our genetic background: we can't avoid it. Telling a story and listening to it thrills us, guides our comprehension of the world around us. This book offers a fascinating, practical and sometimes even erudite journey to learn how to tell stories.

LAS COSAS POR SU NOMBRE / THE NAMING GAME

Yael Frankel, text and illustrations

NEW TITLE!

Berta is a curious and funny girl who is fascinated by the power of words: how they are able to conjure things and create new worlds. She plays with them and creates poems, riddles and songs. But sometimes she also has doubts, for instance when she asks herself for instance if there's a name for everything? Who invents it? And what's the name of the things we can name? A clever and witty book, whose reader will only have to let Berta lead him or her to think about what we are, what's around us, and how we are able to understand and express it all.

FLIS FLAS

ALEX NOGUÉS, text

INA HRISTOVA, illustrations

Sometimes we worry too much about what could happen, about what will never happen, and in the end we get upset.

This is not how Ludovico lives, he is a young duck who takes life as it is. Each day he flies, swims and eats; he lives close to a lake where in Winter it is so cold that water gets frozen. But Ludovico doesn't know anything about this. So that the day he lands onto ice, instead of getting scared, he will begin a learning process based on trying and see what happens. A Taoist tale about life and its little accidents.

SEEDS. A LITTLE BIG TRIP

JOSÉ RAMÓN ALONSO, text
MARCO PASCHETTA, illustrations

Seeds are prodigious capsules, a surprising natural structure. In this book you will discover all their secrets. Seeds are humble and strong. They can be as small as dust or as big as soccer ball. They can wait hundreds of years until the right time to germinate comes. This is the reason why they start long travels, crossing seas, flying, or holding on to our socks until they find a suitable place. Seeds are the best tool that humanity has in order to stop hunger and they also provide us with cotton, oils, varnishes, and many other things. There's a lot we can learn by observing seeds, their patience, and their persistence. Join them in their journey to life!

DIEZ GUSANITOS DUERMEN / TEN LITTLE WORMS GO TO SLEEP

MARTA COMÍN

It's time to go to sleep, embraced by their mother, ten little worms dream their dreams. Each little worm has a different colour and a different character: one is shy, another one is curious; there's the brave one, and the easily scared one; one loves to make jokes, and the red one falls in love easily. The reader of this book will get to know these little 10 worms, who are like everyone of us. You will have fun looking for the shape that each worm has taken in each spread, you will be introduced to the name of colours, and will also get to play transforming your fingers into little worms, using the 4cards at the end of the book.

EL CIELO IMAGINADO / ENVISIONING THE SKY

PABLO A. ALONSO, text
ANA SUÁREZ, illustrations

Stars are those shining dots that we see in the sky each night. In fact they are gigantic burning objects, made out of gas, that lay millions of kilometres apart. But stars can also be thousands of eyes looking at us, dancers in a theatre or windows to peek into other worlds. It only depends on the way you envision your sky. After a brief introduction on the concept of constellations as we normally know them, this book presents the interpretations that different cultures all over the world, all over history have given of the night sky, the wonderful show that is played each night in our world. You will hear what Eskimos, Navajos, Kazakhstanis and so on.

LOS DÍAS FELICES / HAPPY DAYS

BERNAT CORMAND

The main characters of this tale are two boys –the narrator and Jacob–, a place –a village placed between the sea and a hill–, and time. The time that belongs to the games, when each one realizes he has found a partner to share dreams, challenges, hopes and fears. And time to remember and to feel an unbearable longing, because one day Jacob's family leaves without saying goodbye. What's left for the person who is still there? The pain, the abandonment, as big as a mountain? A memory that allows you to hope? A surprise hidden in a secret place?

CUATRO ROMANCES / FOUR LOVE STORIES

IMAPLA

Imapla composes a beautiful story that unfolds throughout the year: a cloud and a tree have fallen in love, and together they give life to the seasons: autumn, winter, spring and summer. This graphic artist has created a poetic book that finds its inspiration in Eastern haikus and in Bashô work specifically. The simple shapes that compose the images of this book generate a powerful enchantment that celebrates the sun and the rain, clouds and snow, the thunder, the growing of blossoms and fruits, love and life. A beautiful work to read with toddlers or to appreciate in its poetic form adults.

UN DÍA DE TORMENTA / A STORMY DAY

DANIEL NESQUENS, text
MAGUMA, illustrations

In this upside down book, on one side two men are walking along the street, when it begins to rain. In a pond at their feet, they see surfers and ships travelling as if they were in the middle of the ocean. On the other side of the book, a family lives a weird experience: from the roof there comes the strangest flood you could ever imagine. The upstairs neighbours drop down together with the water. Hey! But... Wait a second! Now it's the own family that is falling downstairs, carried by the drops of water. Two surrealistic stories, written in the pure Daniel Nesquens' style, in an apparently plain language, but full of little details.

¡MALACATÚ!

MARÍA PASCUAL DE LA TORRE

When it's time to wash your teeth, the kitchen becomes the scenario of a tremendous duel between mother and son. A duel fought using enchantments. None, not even the house cat, will escape the magic that surrounds the place. Each enchantment has its own meaning, just like when the mother turns the boy into a pig, or the boy turns his mother into a mumbling coffee pot, or into a cage... The words that appear in this beautiful book are the spells created by the mother and son. Meanwhile, the reader will have to follow the story looking carefully at the images in order to see what every toy in the house is doing.

TEO MUCHOSDEDOS / TEO MANYFINGERS

CATALINA GONZÁLEZ, text

PERE GINARD, illustrations

This tale is about gardens. About bushes, scissors, donkeys with sweet eyes, gentle farmers, nosy neighbours, arrogant knights, and visits arriving in a chariot.

This tale is about a modest man, and a powerful one. About little pleasures, and great ambitions. It is about apple pies, and sacks filled with gold.

This tale is about magnolias, cherry trees, carrots, and tomatoes –a lot of tomatoes!–, but above all it is about determination, and the love for a properly done work.

SUBEN Y BAJAN / GOING UP AND DOWN

MARTA COMÍN

Some things always go down; others always move upwards. But there are also things that sometimes go up, and sometimes go down. A few times you can understand why, but not always. What kind of relationship develops between the concepts of going up and down? Can you go down without going up and vice versa? Creating beautiful and metaphorical images, the author of this book explores the principle of duality. A little book to discover a new concept, a book that will surprise you talking about simple everyday facts, those facts one rarely thinks about.

HISTORIA DE TODOS / EVERYBODY'S STORY

HÉCTOR GÓMEZ NAVARRO, text

INA HRISTOVA, illustrations

The stories that build up the human mosaic that appears in this book were born in northern Peru. They are written using the rich, and rhythmic Spanish language spoken there. Even if their roots lie in a specific place, these tales talk about everybody's life. In fact in this book there's "love, so that it deserves to be read". But also and "inevitably death. And between love and death, there are many paths, and adventure so that you won't forget them. Revenge, music, mystery. Rich and poor people, towns and forests, hate and justice. What we are and what we dream of".
