

A Buen Paso: Just In!

Marta Comin brings forth 2 new titles in addition to Suben y Bajan:

--A counting board book with die-cuts for little fingers to fit through;
-- A book to teach perspective to the little ones!

Diez Gusanitos Duermen, by Marta Comin

Marta Comin brings us an innovative counting book, introducing us to a family of 10 worms! The last pages, micro-perforated allow the reader to detach 4 cards, all with existing holes for the young reader to put his or her fingers through, like little worms!
32 pp • 15.5 x 20 cm • Boardbook and includes 4 die-cut post-cards • 3 +

¿Y tú qué crees?, by Marta Comin

And you: what do you think? What is your perspective? Is it the bat hanging upside down that isn't standing right? Or is it us looking at her? Who in fact is upside down?
An adorable book destined to the youngest to learn about perspective and how the same situation can be seen quite differently according to the side you're on!
32 pp • 21 x 21 cm • Hardcover with interior die cuts • 3 +

¿Y tú qué crees?

El Cielo Imaginado, by Pablo A. Mastro & Ana Suarez

The stars are those luminous points that we see in the sky every night. Giant incandescent gas balls that burn millions of kilometers from us. But the stars can also be thousands of eyes that look at us, dancers in a theater or windows to other worlds. It all depends on how you imagine your sky... El Cielo Imaginado is a fantastic illustrated documentary for the youngest! It presents to the reader some of the basic concepts of astronomy like the milky way, Ursa Major, the hemisphere, etc... as well as introduces the reader to 10 sky-related legends and beliefs from around the world (the Eskimos, Aborigens, Incas, etc..).

32 pp • 17.5 x 24 cm • Landscape Hardcover • 5 +
